[Free the Indianapolts Journal, Jan. 6.
Last wight at half past seven o'clock, Caleb
B. Smith. Judge of the United States Girenit
Ceurl for the District of Indiana, and late Secretary of the Interior, died in his office in the Court room, of hemorrhage of the stomach, so suddenly that this announcement will ach, so suddenly that this announcement will result.

At has the official vote of the State has been declared. The lowest conservative can didate for Supreme Judge has a majority of at hundred and thirty over the highest radical. The way this majority was obtained has been exposed. Solidiers votes see rejected. Sceretary of the Interior, died in his effice in the Court room, of hemorrhage of the total sch, so suddenly that this announcement will surprise most who see it. He left home in the morning with his son, to attend Court which was in scassion, and appeared to be in his mend health, which, however, for some time past has bot been very robust. On arriving at the Court House he went into his private room to reat a few almutes before opening Court, and while sitting before the fire was scized with a fit of coughing, which, in some unexplained way, ruptured a blood-ressel and caused a profitse and almost choking flow of blood. He was alone at the time, but in a few minute Postmaster Conner entered the room, and discovering the condition of the Judge, notified those who could best assist in the matter, and had him removed to use bed in the private office of Mr. District Attorney Hanna. Doctors Jameson and Wright were called in, and the utimost efforts of these experienced physicians were directed to the stopping of the flow of blood. They succeeded partially, but till more than a gallon had been thrown up, and the patient fearfully, if not fatally reduced in strength and vital energy. After the checking of the hemorrhage the Judge remained offin, and, it was hoped, in a condition which rendered recovery possible. But intel in the afternoon a paroxym of coughing seized him again and renewed the hemorrhage and stitecking a system already so greatly reduced, specifity rendered death is-evitable. Sometime before dark it was considered certain that he could not live through the night, and those unhappy fears were realized only too soon. As his condition made it murceable to meve him, be died in the Court building, like John Quincy Adams, in the discharge of his duty, laboring in the cause of justice and good governitue to the last moment of his life. A nobber record this this can be minuted to the post. — The human body, in so advanced a stage of decomposition as to be entirely unrecognizable, can how be so restored by chemical means, as to present an almost completely natural appearance. This process was intely practiced with success in London, in the case of a body found in the Thames, which was suspected to be that of an escaped marderer, who had committed suicide. After the body had been subjected to the new process, the witnesses were cumbled to giver that he was not the supposed marderer.
